

Privacy Statement

Protecting the security and privacy of all visitors to this website is very important to Australian Solar Manufacturing Pty Ltd (ASM). Accordingly, we adhere to the following Privacy Policy with regards to identification and storage of website visitor information.

Visitor Information

ASM does not collect any personal information on visitors, unless the individual voluntarily supplies the company with such details, as in the case of an online job application, request for more information or a request to be contacted by a member of staff. If you do not want ASM to have access to this information, please do not submit it.

When ASM is provided with personal information, such as a person's name and contact details, this information will only be used for the purposes stated (i.e. responses to job applications, provision of media information, responses to investor enquiries). After receiving such information, a copy of the visitors email will be forwarded to the appropriate staff member at ASM to deal with the enquiry. ASM does not have affiliations with any other advertising or server companies that use the Internet for advertising or marketing purposes. It is not the intention of ASM to supply any personal information to any other third party organisation or commercial establishment. If a visitor or subscriber decides that they do not want the information they have supplied used for the purpose they have indicated, or if they would like to have inaccuracies corrected in the information they have supplied, they are requested to contact ASM and specify details of changes. ASM will respond to such directions accordingly.

Non-Personal Information

In the process of visiting the ASM website, some non-personal information may be collected automatically by the website. This information is used for tracking and reporting purposes to help website managers understand patterns of website use and to improve the content of the website. This does not include any information about the visitors email or domain address. This information may include:

- The country the visitor is from
- Details of the pages viewed and the page at which the visitor left the site
- The number of website visitors/number of hits per month

Security of Information

Within its website facilities, ASM has measures in place to protect against the misuse or loss of information supplied by website visitors. While ASM cannot guarantee the absolute security of any information disclosed on-line, the company endeavours to carefully protect against the destruction, falsification, manipulation and unauthorised access or disclosure of all personal information.

Links to other websites

ASM provides links to other websites for the convenience and information of visitors only. The company does not take responsibility for the content or privacy policy of these websites.

Changes in Privacy Policy

ASM may at some time, modify or make changes to, the contents of the company's Privacy Policy as a result of changes to privacy laws, regulations and standards or ways the company collects and uses information. In the event of this, changes to this Privacy Policy Statement will be implemented accordingly.
